

Against Gender-Based Violence

25 November – 10 December

What can you do?

Recognise the signs of domestic violence, which may not always be immediately obvious.

Respond by listening carefully and without judgement.

Refer by connecting the person to the most appropriate service. That could include a referral to your local social work department, to DVConnect, or to the free Women's Legal Service available at our hospitals.

We all have a role to play in preventing domestic and family violence, as well as supporting survivors of violence.

The time for change is here and now.

Violence against women is preventable.
